MUSIC CHARADES

This Charades game is great for a family, or video chat your friends and play with a bigger crowd!

STEP 1

This game is exactly like Charades, except all music! Write a list of musical instruments, musicals, or songs on pieces of paper and put them in a bowl. Keep them age appropriate for your group.

Some sample ideas:
Saxophone

"Mary had a little lamb"

Kazoo

RENT

"Rock a bye baby"

"Ironic"

"Baby Shark"

"Let it Go"

STEP 2

Too easy? Split into teams and play “fish bowl” style. Put 1 min and 30 sec on a timer. First team chooses 1 person to start and they play until the timer goes off; they pick a paper and begin. They can use words, sounds, or actions to get their team to guess the paper. If it is too hard, they say “pass” and put the paper back in the bowl. If they say the word on the paper accidentally they have to put it back. Any correctly guessed item is quickly set aside to be counted later and a new paper pulled until the timer beeps – count how many were correctly guessed. Then team 2 goes.

STEP 3

Play like this, taking turns, until all the paper is gone from the bowl. OR if there does not look like enough paper for the next round to be played. Take out any leftover papers and set them away from the game. Put all the guessed papers back in the bowl for round 2.

Round 2: Put 1 min on the timer. Now the charades person can ONLY use actions to get their team to guess the right word(s). If they make a sound, the paper goes back in the bowl. Play until all papers are gone.

STEP 4

If the round ended with time to spare on a team, they are first to go in the next round.

Third (and final) round: Put 30 sec on the timer
You can only use 1 word (and not the one on the paper) to get your team to guess.

ADAPTATION: If you don't have enough people to split into two teams, play free for all. The person doing charades gets 2 points for each time someone guesses correctly, and the guesser gets 1.
